Intro: As with any art form, mastering the art of living requires an intimate understanding of the framework, fundamental tools, and nuances that form the groundwork for creating a masterpiece.

Your framework is that of a spiritual being, enrolled in a human drama, fundamentally supported by your life purpose or reason for being.
The nuance is the way you interpret your role in God's theatre.

Chorus: Life is God's theatre.

Verse 1: Who am I, why am I here, can I have a direct effect on humanity?
When I take the stage each day, what role will I play and how well will I play it?
Whether as a King or costumed as a clown, will I embrace the script or will the plot just get me down? Will the marquee say he refused to play?
Will I just be a prop when the curtain drops in God's theatre?

Verse 2: Should I try, once again, to be true to my heart in a world ransomed to fear; or should I cast hope away, assign my dreams to yesterday? I've been searching trying to find solid answers to the thoughts in my mind. That it all works out for good is hard to see.
If I lift the curtain will I behold the mystery of God's theatre?

Chorus: Life is God's theatre, suspense, melodrama or comedy
Life is God's theatre, determine the character you're going to be
Life is God's theatre; the gift of life is that the curtain rises every day
Life is God's theatre, we learn lessons and we grow through the roles we play

Bridge: I've been searching for a long, long time for a way to make peace with this heart of mine. I promised myself I'd take a chance, spread my wings, watch my soul dance. Bit parts I've played and the cameos have served me well but heaven knows I'm through waiting on the casting call, the stage is set for my greatest role of all.

You can be a superstar if you shine your light wherever you are. Just put your soul into the roles you play, be a standing ovation every day. When your light is so bright that the darkest night can't steal your joy, then you will see; your stage in life is a glorious place filled with love and grace and harmony.

Chorus: Life is God's theatre, suspense, melodrama or comedy
Life is God's theatre, determine the character you're going to be.
Life is God's theatre; the gift of life is that the curtain rises every day.
Life is God's theatre, we learn lessons and we grow through the roles we play.

Spoken: Places, lights, action, embrace your role.

Vamp: When the light dims, act one through the curtain call, there's more supporting your choice to be right where you are when you choose to see...

Chorus: Life is God's theatre, suspense, melodrama or comedy
Life is God's theatre, determine the character you're going to be
Life is God's theatre; the gift of life is that the curtain rises every day
Life is God's theatre, we learn lessons and we grow through the roles we play
Life is God's theatre
