The whole of humanity, including our children, spouses, extended family, lovers, our friends, business partners, neighbors, employers, leaders, those whom we consider our adversaries, as well as you and me, is experiencing a shaking up and a quickening of spirit, as the ever-unfolding path of human evolution escorts us through an intensified quest for illumination. We are in pursuit of the truth: a truth that resonates high above the divided realms of religious preference; a truth that transcends the limited platform of party politics; a truth that is impervious to media manipulation; a truth that penetrates the very core of our existence, pierces the veil of illusion that obscures the reality of our lives here on earth and sets us free. So determined are we to discover and live out this truth that we've called forth, from the depths of our psyche, the darkest and most sinister of lies and illusions, to challenge our commitment and determination to rise.

Though you may have no conscious awareness of your role, through the yearning of our own souls and the cumulative energy of many enlightened revolutionaries who have gone before us, we are afforded the opportunity to transcend limitations imposed by systems, energy fields and beings to whom we have seductively surrendered our right of self-determination. You and I chose to be present for this time. We have come to facilitate a shift; to institute an ascension beyond a seemingly insurmountable world system; to represent a transformative power capable of dismantling that which no longer serves our growth, while simultaneously fostering new social, spiritual and economic paradigms. We are here to heal our world and its inhabitants as we, ourselves, are healed.

In awakening from our slumber, we are clear that war and its bedfellow politics will not facilitate the healing, unity and wholeness our world needs. We recognize war as a tool of our lower nature and politics our egos fail-safe for insuring its survival. We decree that the notion of war as the path to peace and global not only offends our humanity as well as what we know of our ability to peaceably resolve conflict.

In response to a deluge of energy that threatens to hold our world captive to designs formulated by greed, subterfuge, disinformation and political lies, we choose to rise above it all by pledging allegiance to the creator of our being and seeking its voice for clarity and guidance. For, in seeking and fulfilling our role in raising the vibration of the planet, we are released from fear, into the divine protection of the cocreators we know ourselves to be.

Standing in the light of this truth, we reclaim ownership of our minds, hearts, souls and our home, and allow the energy of divine government to unfold within us. With the totality of our being, as pillars of light, conscious revolutionaries and the epitome of the very truth we seek, we take hold of our birthright and transform Mother Earth. The only question that remains is "Will you rise?"

The background of the image is a collage of various musical score pages. The pages are tilted at different angles, creating a dynamic and layered effect. The notation includes staves with notes, rests, and other musical symbols. A prominent red-bordered white box is centered in the upper half of the image, containing production credits. The overall aesthetic is that of a music producer's portfolio or a record sleeve design.
