Intro: Wait a minute. There's something more that I've gotta say.

BG: Man, I thought we was through with that.

Oh no! This is the "Necessary Necessary Understanding."

So much fear and confusion going around, people uptight, jumping at the slightest sound. Thirty-eight under the pillow, triple locks on the door, shoot first see ya later, all's fair in war. In New York, LA, Atlanta, Boise, Idaho, all around the world, you gotta know that the primary thing these times are demanding is that you look within yourself for an understanding. Why you keep doing what you do, when you wouldn't want another doing it to you? You're putting pressure on yourself and making your way hard, when you treat another creature with disregard.

What you send out comes right back to ya, what you do to other folk comes back to do ya! Maybe not tomorrow, but stow it all away; time is moving fast and every dog has his day. So, holler "Nigger, fool, cracker or spick, wet-back, wap, faggot," or whatever your pick. But take out your little pad and be sure to make a note, the time is coming soon to say "That's all she wrote."

The time has past for getting by with undermining one another, whether done in the open or whether we do it under cover. Planet earth is our home, there's room for us all, so stop dissing one another, participating in our anticipated fall.

Chorus:

The Necessary Understanding - of the ways of life

The Necessary Understanding - You've got to have sound advice

The Necessary Understanding - To rise above the strife.

Repeat
