Intro: Change is the one constant in our world. And life empowering change is hardly ever easy. Yet, to maximize our life experience requires that we not only embrace but revel in the change that upsets the status quo, calls us out of stagnancy, and promotes our growth beyond our presumed limitations.

Verse 1: I had a ticket on a merry-go-round, jaded life, time was winding down. Roles that I played had run their time, and I knew I had hills to climb. I decided that I had too much to lose, I had to clear the way. I'm so delighted to know that I can choose to linger in the dark or face a brand new day; so I'm changing.

Chorus: Voices of change, calling out my name, the time is now.

Ad-libs: They're telling me, telling me the time is now. I've been going through changes, going along just to get along. I'm gonna change my life.

Verse 2: And I've already started on a new point of view, seeing things I've never seen before. There are no limits to the things that I can do, I've escaped from my revolving door. And I'm no longer naive about the things that I believe. My truth unfolds eternally. It doesn't matter about the challenges starting new may bring; it all comes down to loving me, so I'm changing.

Chorus: Voices of change, calling out my name, the time is now.

Ad-libs: And I'm telling you, change is calling me, telling me the time is now. I'm tired of going through changes, setbacks and re-arrangements that don't heal my life.

Bridge: Now, if you agree that the willingness to change is imperative to a wholeness and fulfillment, and you have the courage to make a move, the time is now. So take a step; the first step, one step, yea.

Verse 3: As I travel down this long and winding road, goodness knows I've had my share of pain. Yet, I know within the deepness of my soul, though I die, I will rise again. Looking back on "used to be," buried treasure I might find, sifting through my faded memories. But I must gather up the strength to leave what's history behind. I hear the call of destiny, so I'm changing.

Chorus: Voices of change, calling out my name; the time is now. Repeat...

Ad-libs: And I'm telling you, change is calling my number, it's telling me the time is now. I've got to start a new, it can't be the same, I'm through playing the same old game; new politics, new shoes that fit. Have you heard? I'm just telling you, what they're telling me; they're telling me your time is now. You've overcome the challenge, carried the weight, no time to quit! Take time to celebrate!

Ad-lib: No time to lose, it's up to you to choose. As for me, I'm changing.

Chorus: I'm changing!

Ad-lib: Oh, the light done come! Come out of darkness, and learn to walk in the marvelous light.

Chorus: I'm changing!

Ad-lib: Change is calling you. What you gonna do?

Chorus: I'm changing! Voices of change calling out my name.
